

The Play Pledge

I recognize that an invitation to play is the ultimate sign of acceptance, inclusion, and common ground.

I will be more playful in my interactions with family, friends, co-workers, and the people I meet every day.

I will remember that a single playful act can ripple outwards and change a day, a week, a life.

I will notice that a playful moment can happen anywhere, at any time, with anyone.

I will foster more humanity and bring more fun into the world around me.

I pledge to Play Every Day.
